4 years after President Obama promised to shut down Guantanamo Bay, it's still open. One of the last British citizens there, Shaker Aamer, has yet to be released, despite never having been charged with a crime, and having been cleared for release twice. 11 years on, pressure must be mounted on our government to ensure his release. This event will give us insight into what we can do to help his cause. Sign the petition calling for his release: www.freeshaker.com
