SITUATION REPORT

A selection of recent reports from Sri Lankan newspapers, without comment, Readers are requested to form their own conclusions.

In Parliament

Tuesday's bout of Bhagat bashing was succeeded yesterday by the SLFP's fervent championing of the Kandyan peasantry. If on Tuesday Agalawatte's Merrill Kariyawasam made use of the adjournment to beat the war drums against India, yesterday during adjournment Attanagala's Lakshman Jayakody was equally vocal in declaring war on Minister Thondaman ..... Mr. Jayakody, who opened the debate with a discursive speech, said that the upcountry Tamils would ask for a homeland of their own on the Eelam pattern in 18 months time though he did not explain the basis for the time frame. Mark my words, he warned the House. Giving a horrific account of the looting and arson engaged in allegedly by Tamils during the recent upheaval in the hills Mr. Jayakody charged that Mr. Thondaman's CWC was behind the violence ..... ## Priest back to Jail

Fr. Abraham Singarayer, the Catholic priest who stood in the dock for 180 days in the High Court Colombo was yesterday acquitted of the charge of withholding information of the Police about the Neerveli bank robbery, that was brought against him. But the priest, happy and smiling, drove back to Welikada prison. He is already charged in an adjoining Court at Bauddhaloka Mawatha. In that case, he is charged with harbouring terrorists and withholding information to the Police about the terrorist attack on the Chavakachcheri Police Station ..... Immediately on his acquittal Fr. Singarayer speaking to the press said: "The prevention of Terrorism Act should be repealed. We are freedom fighters. We do not want to see the bloodshed of our Sinhala brethren ..... ## Government M.P. opens fire

Cinnamon gardens police recorded the statement of Tangalle MP Jinadasa Weerasinghe, in connection with a shooting incident at 'Sravasti', the MPs hostel, on Monday night, and took his revolver and five rounds of ammunition into custody. A spent bullet was also been taken by the police, Police sources said that the 'Sravasti' manager, Mr. V.M.M. Aruyasena Silva, had complained that a shot had been fired near his office. The manager said that he had been summoned by the MP, and on seeing him armed with revolver, had taken cover behind a wall. While he was there, he heard the report of gunshot. The MP had called out to him and he had come out. Several other MPs had taken the Tangalle MP to his room ..... (Daily News - 6.3.86)

Dutch national arrested

A Dutch National whom the police said had in his possession several photographs and video tapes of certain incidents in the hill country was taken in for questioning by the Anuradhapura police on Saturday. According to the police he had told them on interrogation, that his arrival in Sri Lanka was on the instructions of one Jayaseelan, who comes from Jaffna, and, who now lives in Holland. The police also said suspect had also planned to meet a brother of Jayaseelan, a lecturer at an University. Police were able to arrest the foreigner on information they received from his driver. The Sri Lanka Police have informed Interpol to obtain more information on the foreigner. Police are now on the trail of a Tamil lecturer. The Holland national is to be handed over to the CID today ..... (The Island - 3.3.86).

Police assault Soldier

Military police intensified patrolling in Homagama town, following the alleged assault of a soldier by a policeman of the Homagama police station on Thursday evening. The soldier, from the Panagoda cantonment, was allegedly assaulted and taken to custody by the Homagama police while he was trying to cross the road with two other soldiers in civvies. On hearing of the incident, senior army officers rushed to the police station and met the Homagama ASP, who released the soldier after a two-hour discussion. This soldier, who bears the rank of gunner, is partly deaf, resulting from a bomb blast in the fight against terrorists in the North ..... (Daily News - 10.3.86)

Meeting a national crisis

Minister of National Security Lalith Athulathmudali has proposed the establishment of a "Stand-by Task Force" to meet any national crisis whether man made or natural. He expects the Force to be able to deal with a crisis situation at short notice. Explaining the working of that force, Mr. Athulathmudali told "The Island" it must be completely voluntary and disaster oriented "that it should be in readiness to meet the needs of any disaster", on a well worked out programme. He said a national crisis could be brought about by man made or natural factors ..... (The Island - 9.3.86)

All that glitters is not a bomb!

A swissair security agent, travelling incognito, held on to a parcel of 'hot' gold on board a Westbound aircraft at Katunayake on Sunday night. Airport sources said that the parcel of 15 gold bars, valued at Rs.6 million, was being handed over to a first class passenger by a Lankan airline employee when the security agent, thinking an explosive was being passed, grabbed the man, leaving the parcel in the agent's hands, the Lankan disappeared. His identity has not been established. The gold has been handed over to the customs. The big question now is why the passenger, to whom the gold was allegedly being passed, had not been detained and interrogated ..... (Daily News - 11.3.86)

All Eggs in one basket

The Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Anura

Bandaranaike, said yesterday that the Sri Lanka Freedom Party (SLFP) would not get involved in the Government's quarrel with India. Mr. Bandaranaike told "The Island" that both Sri Lanka and India were to blame for the present situation. He said that the Government was to be blamed for their inconsistent policy of "blow hot, blow cold" towards India. As for India, they too were to be blamed for putting all their eggs into one basket and expecting others to pull the "chestnuts out of the fire" ..... (The Island - 9.3.86)

150,000 fisherfolk hit

Nearly 150,000 fisherfolk have been affected by the territorial zone rule in the North and East prohibiting fishing in the specified area, Minister of Fisheries Festus Perera told 'The Island'. There are 30,000 people who are directly engaged in fishing activities in this Zone while the rest were dependent on them. The Minister said fishermen now idling were existing on Food Stamps and had summoned a conference of top officials of the Ministries of Social Services and Rehabilitation to give the fishermen additional relief ..... (The Island - 9.3.86)

Ronnie de Mel says No

Finance Minister Ronnie de Mel has informed the Government that if the present high level of defence expenditure and the slump in commodities prices continue, the Government would have to drop some of the projects included in the Public Investment Programme. He has said that it will also not be possible to accommodate any new projects under the investment programme. The Minister has made this reply in response to a proposal by Prime Minister R. Premadasa for the inclusion of various water supply and sanitation improvements in the National Water Supply and Drainage Boards (NWSDB) Capital Investment programme at a cost of Rs.4,260 million ... (The Island - 9.3.86)

Soviet Policy hits tea

The continued absence of the Soviet Union from Colombo's tea auctions has led to a decline in prices and raised concern in the trade. The Soviet Union withdrew from the auctions in December last year and has been inactive since, while pledging to buy half of India's exports in the coming year ..... BOP prices declined by two rupees per kilo and five rupees per kilo for the better grades late last month. Soviet buyers accounted for 12 million kilograms in 1984, nearly five per cent of Sri Lanka's sales. In 1985, the purchases dropped to 5.5 million kilograms just over four per cent of the total, exports, according to tea trade statistics. The Soviet Union's Indian purchases, meanwhile have increased steadily and it was India's number one buyer last year. It has also pledged to buy 100 million kilograms from India in 1986 .... ### FEBRUARY 1

A state of war in the mainland northern areas of Kilinochchi, Tharmapuram, Ramanathapuram, Kalmadu, and Mullaitivu. While over 30 Tamil civilians are believed killed, mostly by helicopter attacks, and several thousands have been fleeing their homes, about 15 army personnel and two Tamil militants are reported killed in direct confrontations. Another 35 farmers including some women who were carrying their produce from Vaddakachchi and nearby villages to Kilinochchi market in a van are kidnapped along with the van and taken to the army camp by an army unit, apparently with the idea of keeping them as hostages, but their fate is not known. It is feared that they might even have been killed.

At Kilinochchi, according to information available only today, the trouble began on 30th January, when one of the armoured cars got stuck in the mud at Kalmadu. A vehicle with a crane sent to retrieve the armoured car met with the same fate. Tamil militants had thereupon opened the sluice of the nearby reservoir flooding one part of the escape route and blasted the road bridges on the other side, thereby marooning the entire army convoy. Guerrillas belonging to the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE) engaged some of the reinforcements sent to the approach areas, and regular battles were reported from the 30th till this morning for the third day in succession. Helicopters had dropped food supplies to the marooned troops, and on being attacked by rocket fire by militants, they were compelled to fly higher. Along the main roads at Tharmapuram, armed militants seen openly moving in vehicles, being offered food, aerated waters and tea and young coconuts by local residents. ### FEBRUARY 13

Government introduces a series of Emergency regulations establishing a Territorial Zone covering the territorial sea of Sri Lanka from Point Pedro in the north to Komari in the East. Entrance to the zone will be restricted to all persons except with the written authority of the Competent Authority. Certain areas are specified where fishing could be done subject to various restrictions.

National Security Minister rejects outright all conditions laid by EROS for the release of Mrs. Penelope Willis. EROS had set a deadline to the Sri Lanka Government to permit the International Committee of the Red Cross to arrange for the release of Mrs. Willis. The deadline ends tomorrow. EROS has said that they suspect Mrs. Willis to be an intelligence agent, and may have to subject her to a revolutionary trial, if the Sri Lanka Government blocks her release.

AT Palaly, area surrounding the army airport and camp rocked by helicopter fire and rocket fire by Tamil militants. Confrontation between army and militants occurred when army units began moving by foot from the camp towards Kadduvan. Militant sentries at Kadduvan are reported to have begun flinging hand grenades at them, at which the army men tried to turn back. Meanwhile, armed militants were seen taking positions. Helicopters began strafing the area, and militants used rockets to repulse them. The army men retreat to the camp under helicopter fire.

Point Pedro Citizens' Committee announces that it will receive evidence, both oral and written, from the public tomorrow in connection with all, deaths, injuries, loss to property etc.

Out of the 12 fishermen from Mannar and Gurunagar whose boats were hit by navy fire and sunk, all 6 fishermen from Mannar are now reported to have swum to safety. Out of the 6 Gurunagar fishermen reported missing, it is now learnt that four of them had been captured by navy men and sent to Palaly army camp, while another, Benjamin Kennedy (19) had also swum to safety. The fate of the 12th person is not known. When a Government official contacted army authorities at Palaly in connection with the 4 fishermen detained there he was told that the other two who had swum to safety should also be produced before them before any decision could be made about the four.

Five "Home Guards" who had raped two young Tamil women on Christmas night and killed one of them subsequently, ordered to be further remanded by Mutur Magistrate S. Kathiravetpillai.

Four civilians including a Sinhalese were shot dead by Government forces at a Tea shop at Poovarasankulam in Vavuniya. A few others who were injured say that members of the armed forces opened fire without any provocation whatsoever.

U.S. - Lanka Trade Boom

Sri Lanka achieved a record trade turnover with the United States and also the highest balance of payments in seven years of trade between the two countries last year. The US, Lanka's largest trading partner bought goods to the value of Rs.6,734 million and sold goods to the value of Rs.3,266 million in the year ending November 1985. The balance of payments in Lanka's favour was Rs.3,468 million compared to Rs.2,941 million in 1984. Lanka has been enjoying a favourable balance of payments with the US since 1979. The total trade turnover between the two countries had leapfrogged from Rs.2,125.8 million in 1978 to Rs.4 billion last year. Lanka's exports changed from traditional items of tea, spices, graphite, and coconut to non-traditional products such as ready-made garments, handicrafts, gems and jewellery, ceramic ware, toys, wooden items and cashew nuts .... ## Eight dons quit

Eight senior academics of the Colombo University have submitted their resignations to Vice-Chancellor Professor Stanley Wisundera compelling the authorities to postpone indefinitely, the opening of the science faculty for the new year. The eight heads of departments cited the failure of the authorities to grant their demands for a salary increase, as a reason for their resignations, university sources said ..... (Sun - 5.3.86)

WC Statement

The Ceylon Workers' Congress (CWC) yesterday dis-associated its membership from involvement in terrorist activities and laid charges to that effect "could be proved to be totally false and libellous". In a statement that followed the Congress's National Council meeting last Saturday, the VC, quoting an American civil rights leader, said in reference to the prayer campaign it initiated last year, that its objective was to "create a tension so crisis-packed that will inevitably open the door to negotiations." The Congress also refuted allegations that its funds were being channelled for terrorism in the north and said these charges included them of charges made at one time by the JLFP breakaway elements that foreigners unloaded several sackloads of currency at the residence of Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike ..... ## Repeal Thesawalamai - M.P.

Sunil Ranjan Jayakody (UNP-Polgahawela) moving a private member's motion to repeal the Thesawalamai Law, said that this law was in contradiction to two articles of the Constitution of Sri Lanka. None of the previous governments changed this law which is contrary to two articles of the Constitution. The present UNP Government is nearly nine years old but this law is still in existence, he said. The British made use of this law to divide the people. This law applies even if a resident of Jaffna has property either in Jaffna or outside it. This law violates the fundamental rights of the people. Today we cannot buy land in Jaffna let alone go to Jaffna, but they can buy land anywhere. This is unfair. This law is a caste division perpetrated by the British who ruled Ceylon .... ## Will India attack? - Anura

Referring to India's 30-day notice to Sri Lanka to solve its ethnic problem, Opposition leader Anura Bandaranaike asked whether the Indian ultimatum did not imply that India would invade or attack Sri Lanka if Sri Lanka failed to heed it. He was addressing delegates of party organization in the Akmeemana electorate on Sunday. The conference held at the residence of ex-MP Richard Pathirana was attended by over 1000 party members. Mr. Bandaranaike said that Sri Lanka was going through the worst period of her history. Terrorists are attacking the police and security forces establishments in the North and East. There is also an attempt now to beat back the Police in the Central Province.

"The upcountry is slowly drifting away from the south," he said. The whole upcountry has been bequeathed to Minister Thondaman. We have lost one third of the country already", he added. "When Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike gave over to the present government in 1977, the entire country, from the Northern tip of the southern sea coast, was one land, and any one could go anywhere he liked. But today it is no more so. The people are not free even to go to Anuradhapura or Sri Pada now ..... (Sun - 4.3.86)

Tamil married to Sinhalese accused of murder

On the seventh day of the trial in the Ambanpola murder case, before High Court Judge, G.L.M. de Silva and Sinhala speaking jury, the accused M. Alagukumara Saravanamuttu, alias Sunil Kumar Dissanayake made a statement from the dock, after the prosecution closed its case. It was a thoughtful expression of facts in the present context, of the controversial issue of citizenship rights to the people of Indian origin. Earlier Inspector Wijeratne of Ambanpola Police and Sergeant Bandaranayake who arrested the accused gave evidence. In this case M. Alagukumara Saravanamuttu who subsequently changed his name to Sunil Kumar Dissanayake and got married to a Sinhalese woman, Juliana Beatrice Dabare, stood indicted with the murder of the Ven. P. Dhammarakkita Incumbent of the Sri Bodirukkaramaya and robbery of cash of Rs.7040 and silver coins to the value of Rs.500, on or about 5.10.80.

In the course of his statement from the dock, the accused said that he was born in Dangolla, Kandy and educated at the Dangolla Maha Vidyalaya. His parents were Sri Lankan citizens of Indian origin. At the age of 20 years he married a Sinhalese woman, Juliana Beatrice Dabare, a Christian by religion. They lived at Ambanpola with her parents and he also participated in religious activities of the temple. He had relations among Sinhalese and Tamils.

When living in the village, he had noticed that the people of the village were indifferent to him and developed jealousy towards his wife and him. He was called 'a demala' and his wife often abused as a woman married to a Tamil. Later he went to Kumbuwewa to meet a relative of his wife, and with his help changed his name to Sunil Kumara Dissanayake and registered his marriage legally with Juliana Beatrice Dabare. He did so to obtain Sri Lankan citizenship to his children. He was arrested and taken to Ambanpola police and intimidated stating that he was the person responsible for killing the Ambanpola priest. His wife was then expecting a baby and her sister too was assaulted.

On the instigation of the Police, people in the village set fire to his mother-in-laws house. U.I.C. Ambanpola too was angry with his brother-in-law Dabare as he had filed a plaint in courts against the police for assault. Witness Kiri Banda who did not know the facts of the case did not harass him in the remand jail due to the presence of jail guards. He developed a jealousy towards him as he was well treated by prison officers due to the interest he took in growing flowers in prison premises. He denied having made a confession to Kiri Banda at any stage. He begged for merciful consideration ..... (Sun - 10.3.86)
