

Medical Justice Training for Medics - 20/09/08

Contributed by Emma Ginn
Last Updated Saturday, 07 June 2008

Medical Justice Training for Independent Medics Visiting Immigration Removal Centres Saturday 20th September 2008 - 9.30am to 5.00pm Venue : Harrow Road Health Centre, 209 Harrow Road, London, W2 5EH

Trainers include Prof Cornelius Katona (photo below) and Dr Jonathan Fluxman.

Provisional Programme ; Morning Session: For doctors who have been on less than 2 visits and are considering volunteering with Medical Justice. We will invite other members to run parallel sessions in the morning for other groups e.g. nurses, psychologists and counsellors, medical students, lawyers, to work on issues pertinent to their work for Medical Justice.

09.30am - Welcome, introduction and expectations

09.50am - A detainee's testimony of detention

10.00am - A doctors first experience of visiting someone in detention

10.10am - Interactive case study of a real case from referral to consultation to follow up

11.30am - Coffee

11.50am - Immigration Law for Dummies

12.10pm - Group work with real cases

1.00pm - Lunch

Afternoon Session:

All members and anyone interested in Medical Justice's work.

2pm - Post traumatic stress disorder, rape and mental health problems

3pm - Signs of torture

4pm - Coffee

4.20pm - Taking things forwards: An interactive session on how MJ members can aid detainees, in addition to doctors visits.

5pm Close

Getting to Harrow Road Health Centre

Harrow Road Health Centre is just around the corner from Royal Oak tube station. There is free parking at the back via Torquay Street.

Street map Related items ;

Medical Justice handbook for visiting independent doctors